

Contents

Preface		xi
Contributors		xv
Abbreviations		xvii
Chapter 1	Introduction: Synthesizing Case Study Findings	1
	Chapter Summaries	3
	Defining Key Terms	6
	Analyzing Initial Conditions	7
	Ensuring Flexibility and Incorporating Feedback	8
	Ensuring Community-Driven Development	9
	Starting Small Scale or Large Scale	10
	Fostering Constructive Potential at the Local Level	11
	Linking Constructive Potential to Democratic Decentralization	13
	Enhancing Government Capacity at Higher Levels	15
	Encouraging a Sense of Ownership	16
	Engendering Spillovers	17
	Scaling Up	18
	Parallel Agencies and Bodies	19

	Determining the Psychological Effect of Improvements in Fragile States	22
	Using Donor-Funded Institutions for Partisan Political Purposes	22
	Addressing Needs during or after Armed Conflicts	24
	Considering Implications of Case Studies for Donors	25
	Coordinating and Integrating Aid Interventions	32
	Findings of the Main Study	33
	Notes	35
	Bibliography	35
Chapter 2	A Framework for Assessing Program and Project Aid in Low-Income Countries under Stress	37
	Overarching Issues Affecting Aid Modalities	41
	Reviewing LICUS Contexts and the Aid Effectiveness Literature	42
	Reviewing Poverty Reduction Strategy Papers and the New Aid Architecture	44
	Framework for Program and Project Assessment in LICUS	46
	Assessing Development Results	48
	Assessing Design Considerations' Contribution to Development Results	49
	Assessing Implementation Management's Contribution to Development Results	53
	Summarizing Case Study Contents	54
	Notes	55
	References	56
Chapter 3	The Transition Support Program in Timor-Leste	59
	Development in Timor-Leste before the Transition Support Program	60
	Overview of the Transition Support Program	64
	Development Results	73
	Conclusion	81
	Notes	82
	Bibliography	82
			Chapter 4	The Seila Program in Cambodia	85
				The Seila Program's Evolving Goals and Objectives	87
				Development Results	96
				Implications for Design and Implementation	116
				Conclusion	117
				Notes	118
				Bibliography	119
			Chapter 5	The First and Second Health Sector Rehabilitation and Development Projects in Timor-Leste	123
				The Health Sector in East Timor before 2000	124
				Overview of the Health Sector Rehabilitation and Development Project	127
				Development Results	131
				Explaining the Projects' Contribution to Development	136
				Conclusion	141
				Notes	142
				Bibliography	142
			Chapter 6	The Direct Support to Schools Program in Mozambique	145
				Program Description	146
				Field Work Methods and Sources	148
				Development Results	150
				Scaling Up the Program	159
				Long-term Sustained Impacts	160
				Summary of Program Achievements and Challenges	164
				Lessons for Aid Provision in LICUS	166
				Notes	167
				Bibliography	168
			Chapter 7	Decentralized District Planning and Finance in One Mozambican Province	173
				Design of This Study	175
				Project Description	176
				Methods and Sources	177
				Project Design	178
				Project Implementation Processes	179
				Development Results	180
				Lessons for Development Interventions in LICUS	191

	Notes	192
	Bibliography	193
Chapter 8	The Community Fora Process in Mazar-e-Sharif, Afghanistan	199
	Background and Context	200
	Development of the Community Fora	203
	Development Results	212
	Design Considerations' Contribution to Development Results	216
	Implementation Processes	217
	Conclusions	223
	Annex	225
	Notes	226
	References	226
Chapter 9	Aid Effectiveness and Microfinance: Lessons from Afghanistan	229
	Context	230
	Development Results	234
	Design Considerations	235
	Implementation Arrangements	240
	Lessons for LICUS	248
	Notes	250
	Bibliography	250
Chapter 10	Community-Driven Development in Conflict and Postconflict Conditions: The Northern Uganda Social Action Fund Project	253
	Project Antecedents	256
	The Northern Uganda Social Action Fund Project	261
	Conclusions	280
	Notes	283
	Bibliography	286
Index		289
Boxes
8.1	Lack of Aid Coordination	204
8.2	Girls' Right to Education	208
			8.3	Partnership with Municipal Government: Linking Citywide and Community Solutions for Solid Waste Removal	209
			8.4	Principles of Community Fora	211
			8.5	Promoting Cross-Ethnic Collaboration and Understanding	215
			Figures
			4.1	Institutional Structure of the Seila Program	93
			5.1	Basic Health Indicators, 1999 and 2001 in Timor-Leste	126
			5.2	Annual per Capita Donor Assistance in Selected Low-Income Countries Under Stress, 1999–2002	139
			8.1	Community Fora Established in Six Provinces of Afghanistan	212
			Tables
			2.1	Framework for Assessing Program and Project Aid in LICUS	39
			2.2	Framework for Evidence on Development Results of Aid Interventions in LICUS	47
			3.1	Development Indicators in Timor-Leste before and after 1999	64
			3.2	Consolidated Fund Expenditure in Timor-Leste, Fiscal Year (FY) 2003–05	65
			3.3	Consolidated Fund Expenditure in Timor-Leste, by function, FY 2003–05	66
			3.4	Consolidation Fund Financing, FY 2003–05	67
			3.5	Status of Actions under TSP I and TSP II	73
			4.1	Financial Support to CAREERE and Seila, 1992–2001	98
			4.2	Financial Support to Seila, 2001–05	108
			5.1	Key Minimum Performance Indicators in the Health Sector	131
			5.2	Key Health Indicators, July 1, 2003–June 30, 2004	135
			6.1	Coverage and Costs of Direct Support to Schools Program	147
			6.2	Education Sector Strategic Plan Cost, by Component and Subcomponent	149
			7.1	Project Budget and Funding Sources	177
			7.2	Achievements and Constraints in Expanding the Project in Nampula Province	190
			9.1	Afghanistan: Social Indicators	230

- 9.2 Growth of MISFA, 2003–08
- 9.3 MISFA Client Activity: October 2004
- 9.4 Overview of BRAC Afghanistan Microfinance Program, 2002–04
- 9.5 One MFI's Financial Planning and Growth Proj