

INDICE

Foreword	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xii
Acronyms	xiv
The Project cycle at a Glance	xvi
Introduction	1
Chapter I: reflections: what is participation
External expert stance	3
Listening and consultation
Social learning	4
Social invention
Commitment	5
Popular versus stakeholder participation	6
Reaching the poor	7
Chapter II: sharing experiences	9
A guide to sourcebook examples (with map)	13
Albania: rural poverty alleviation pilot project	17
Benin: health services development project	23
Brazil: municipalities and low-income sanitation	29
Chad: Education y project	35
Colombia: electricity sector reform	39
Egypt: matruh resource management project	47
India: Andhra Pradesh forestry project	53
Lao peoples democratic republic: health system reform and Malaria control	61
Mexico hydroelectric project	67
Morocco: enhancing the participation of women in development	75
Mozambique: country implementation review	89
Pakistan: sindh special development project	95
Philippines: integrated protected areas project	103
Philippines: communal irrigation areas project	109
Republic of Yemen: education sector adjustment program	117
Chapter III: practice in participatory planning and decisionmaking
Getting started	121
When to start
Getting government support	122
Identifying stakeholders
Who is a stakeholder?	125
How to identify stakeholders	126
Involving stakeholders
Building trust	129
Involving directly affected stakeholders	130
Seeking Feedback	131
Involving the voiceless	132
Involving the opposition	134
Participatory planning and decisionmaking
What do participatory techniques achieve?	136

Creating a learning mood
What does the learning mood produce?
Strategic planning	138
Tactical planning	139
Task manager roles
Initiating	140
Facilitating
Participating
Sharing expertise	141
Observing	142
Navigating
Nurturing	143
Chapter IV: practice pointers in enabling the poor to participate	145
Learning from the poor
Learning what poverty means to the poor	146
Providing incentives for the poor to participate	147
Facilitating women's participation	148
Barriers to women's participation	149
Seeking women's views	150
Working with women's groups	151
Building community capacity
Understanding community organizations	152
Building the capacity of community organizations	154
Intermediary NGOs	155
NGOs as Intermediaries	156
Intermediary roles	157
Understanding the NGO sector	158
Identifying appropriate NGOs	159
Bridging the Gap	161
Strengthening NGO capacity	163
Financial intermediation
Fiscal decentralization	164
Social funds	165
Sustainable financial systems	165
Group-based approaches	167
Building capacity of groups
Crafting responsive institutions	170
Characteristics of responsive institutions	171
Strengthening the capacity of government institutions	173
The enabling environment. Legal issues
Right to information	174
Right to organize	175
Impact of borrowers financial and other regulations	177
APPENDIX I: methods and tools
Types of methods	181
Using the methods well	182
Appreciations-influence-control (AIC)	185
Objectives-oriented project planning (ZOPP)	187
TeamUP	189

Participatory rural appraisal	191
SARAR	193
Beneficiary assessment	195
Systematic client consultation	197
Social assessment	199
Gender analysis	201
Glossary of tools	203
APPENDIX II: working paper summaries	205
Participation in country economic and sector work	207
Participation in poverty assessments	211
Participation in agricultural extension	215
Participation in forest and conservation management	219
Participation in the irrigation sector	223
Participation in the education and training sector	231
Participation in social funds	235
Gender issues in participation	239
Participation and intermediary NGOs	243
Designing community-based development	247
Participation and indigenous people	251
INDEX	255