

INDICE

Executive summary
1. Introduction	1
A. Objective
B. The problem
C. The entry points	2
D. Strategic importance of urban services
E. Prior sector work	3
2. The analytical framework
A. Towards better local services: findings the right incentives	4
B. Demand for urban services	6
C. Key to success-completing the reform process	7
3. Urban services and decentralization
A. Political decentralization and service provision	9
B. Functional decentralization: lack of clear assignment of responsibilities	11
C. Fiscal decentralization and urban service provision	16
D. Local capacity for the provision of services	32
4. Recommendations	35
A. Reform of key legislative instruments	36
B. Reform of intergovernmental fiscal relations	37
C. Capacity building	38
References and bibliography
Annex I. Brief analysis of municipal code
Annex II. Criteria for the design of intergovernmental fiscal arrangements
Annex III. Municipal finance
Annex IV. Intergovernmental decentralization fund (FIDES)
Annex V. State to municipal transfer (TEM)
Diagrams
Summary of reforms in the provision of urban services
Schematic intergovernmental fiscal and service flows
Situado municipal 1989-1993 in sample municipalities
Property tax revenue 1989-1993 in sample municipalities
Boxes
Incentives and risk for assuming serviced provision
Wholesaling urban service decentralization
Effective municipal budget process
Tables in text
Emergence of municipalities 1984-1996	