

INDICE

Definitions and data notes	ix
Glossary
Demographic terms	x
Acronyms and initials	xi
1 Introduction
The economic outlook	1
Population and demographic change	2
Part I Recovery of relapse in the World economy?
2 Recession in retrospect	11
Industrial countries in the past two decades	12
Developing countries after 1973	23
3 Prospects for sustained growth
A ten-year perspective	34
The low case and developing countries	35
The high case and developing countries	37
Policy requirements of the high case	39
Capital flows and debt	42
Poverty and low-income countries	47
International action	48
The links with population	50
Part II Population change and development
4 Demographic change and public policy	51
The setting for high fertility
The need for public policy	54
Lessons from history	56
Current demographic change in developing countries	63
Demographic prospects and goals	73
5 The consequences of rapid population growth	79
Differences among countries
Macroeconomic effects of rapid population growth	81
Constraints on agricultural production	90
Population and the environment	94
Urban population growth and internal migration	96
Population growth and the international economy	100
conclusions	105
6 Slowing population growth	106
Socioeconomic factors and fertility	108
Marriage, breastfeeding, and contraception	112
Incentives and incentives	121
7 Family planning as a service	127
The use of contraception	128
Supplying family planning services	136
Financing family planning	148
Obstacles to program expansion	152
8 The policy agenda
Population policy	155
Policy priorities in developing regions	161

Donor assistance policies	178
9 Ten years of experience
Economic adjustment	182
Population change: success and new challenge	183
Population data supplement	186
Bibliographical note	202
World development indicators	207