

INDICE

Abstract	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
Acronyms and abbreviations	xvii
Executive summary	xix
1. Trade performance since the early 1990s-looking for its new role in global trade	1
Main trends in trade performance
Merchandise trade dynamics in 1996-2003	8
Commodity structure of trade	9
Geographic structure of trade	13
Export concentration and specialization	20
Foreign trade data quality	29
Conclusions	33
2. Tariff and trade regime	35
Import tariff structure	36
Import non-tariff barriers	43
Quantitative import restrictions and contingency measures	48
Export regime	49
Fiscal aspects of trade regime	54
Trade regime: perceptions by the private sector	55
Conclusions	61
3. Ukrainian exports and access to the EU market
Overview	65
Policies affecting Ukraine's access to the EU market: the GSP	69
EU protection and the structure of Ukraine's exports	82
The impact EU enlargement	87
Conclusions	89
4. Ukrainian steel export-performance, sustainability, and medium-term prospects	91
Exports performance
Assets, investment, and capacity constraints	98
Government policies: main instruments of support to local steel products	100
Comparative advantage of Ukrainian ferrous metallurgy	106
Medium-Term prospects	108
Conclusions	110
5. Ukraine's accessions to the WTO-complementing the negotiations and maximizing the benefits of membership	113
WTO accession negotiations	114
Remaining roadblocks to accession	118
Reaching the end of negotiations	129
Reaping the benefits of WTO membership	133
Conclusions	143
6. Medium-term priorities for trade integration strategy	145
Trade integration with the EU: follow a pragmatic approach toward attaining realistic goals	146
Trade integration with the CIS: expanded cooperation based on WTO principles	151

Strengthening institutional framework for trade policy formulation	158
Conclusions	161
Statistical annex	163
References	229