

Summary of Contents

Preface	i
Summary of Contents	iii
About the Authors	vii
A. Indecopi as “brand”: Products, Goodwill, Results	1
I. The Role of Indecopi in Perú: the First Five Years of Indecopi By Beatriz Boza	3
II. The people of Indecopi: Profiles of Peru’s modern public servants By Fernando Zavala and Gladys Triveño	39
III. Indecopi by the Numbers By Romano Paredes	59
B. Joining the Global Market: Perspectives on Indecopi from the International Development Community	77
IV. Who needs institutions? By George Wachtenheim (USAID)	79
V. Indecopi in partnership with the Interamerican Development Bank By Aurora Belmore (IDB)	89

VI.	The role of Indecopi: Proposals and Perspectives By Geoffrey Shepherd (The World Bank)	97
VII.	Competing side to side with Indecopi By Antonio Rivière (European Commission)	105
VIII.	Indecopi beyond 2000 By Michael Tapiero (Canadian Executive Service Organization)	113
C.	Fostering a Culture of Intellectual Property Rights: Indecopi and Innovation	121
IX.	Coke Bottles, Candy Bars and Combis: Building an Institution By J. Welby Leaman	123
X.	Indecopi: the 21 st Century arrives a little early By Robert Sherwood	133
XI.	Recent Developments in Peru's Response to Intellectual Property Infringement By Elvia Gastelo	143
XII.	The Role of Indecopi in Promoting Innovation By Eduardo R. Fernández	175
XIII.	Indecopi: Is it an example to be followed? By Peter Dirk Siemsen	181
D.	Advocating Competition: Indecopi and the Development of Peru's Free Market	185
XIV.	Competitiveness and Competition By Armando Cáceres	187
XV.	Why is Indecopi focused on Competition Advocacy?: A framework for interpretation By Armando E. Rodríguez and Kelly A. Hoffman	197

XVI.	Five years of Competition Policy in Peru: Challenges in the transition to a Market Economy By Ana Julia Jatar and Luis Tineo	215
XVII.	Analysis of the Institutional Design of Organizations for the Defense of Competition Reference By Claudia Curiel and Eduardo Garmendia	227
XIX.	Antidumping and Competition Policies in Latin América: Rival Siblings or Total Strangers By Luis Guasch and Sarath Rajapatirana	241
	Table of Contents	257