Goal 1 Poverty rates are falling, but progress has been uneven	2
China leads the way	3
Rising poverty in Africa—and between the poverty lines	3
Fewer people in extreme poverty	3
Africa's poor get poorer	4
Which countries are on track to reach the MDG target?	4
Starting life at a disadvantage	5
Hunger rising in Africa	5
Poor and malnourished	5
Goal 2 More children everywhere are completing primary school	6
Education for all means girls and boys	7
Inefficient schools slow progress	7
Rich and poor: an attendance gap	7
Goal 3 More girls in school, but the 2005 target will be missed	8
More women working for wages	9
Few women in decisionmaking positions	9
Income and tradition determine girls' opportunities for schooling	9
Goal 4 Improving the odds for children	10
To reduce child deaths, infants must survive	11
Many children's deaths are preventable	11
Unequal risks	11
Goal 5 Mothers at risk in Africa and South Asia	12
Mothers die because of inadequate health care	13
Needed: well trained health workers	13
Poor and rural women are least well served	13
Goal 6 While Sub-Saharan Africa struggles, HIV/AIDS spreads in other regions	14
The risk to women is growing	15
The risk of tuberculosis grows for the most vulnerable	15
In Africa AIDS is leaving millions of children orphaned	15
Young children bear the burden of malaria	15
Goal 7 People need safe, reliable supplies of water	16
Many still lack adequate sanitation	17
Urban areas are expanding	17
More environmental challenges ahead	17
Goal 8 Many sources and many patterns of financing	18
Official development assistance is rising, but still too little	19
Tariffs remain high on poor countries' exports	19
Debt service is falling, but more relief is needed	19
New technologies are spreading quickly	19
1.1a Developing countries produce slightly less than half the world's output	25
1.2a Location of indicators for Millennium Development Goals 1–5	29
1.3a Location of indicators for Millennium Development Goals 6–7	33
1.4a Location of indicators for Millennium Development Goal 8	35
