

Contents

Foreword	v
Abstract	vi
Abbreviations	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Overview	1
Part I. Background	5
1. Introduction	7
2. The State of the Road Sector	9
The Importance of Roads and Road Transport	9
The Impact of Poor Road Maintenance	11
Past Efforts at Reform	14
Regional Programs	15
Part II. The Basic Issues	17
3. A Diagnosis	19
The Institutional Framework	19
Human Resource Constraints	19
Inadequate Financing Arrangements	22
Lack of Clear Responsibilities	24
Ineffective Management Structures	27
Weak Management Systems	28
Inefficient Work Methods	29
4. Commercializing Roads: The Four Basic Building Blocks	32
Assigning Responsibility	32
Creating Ownership	32
Ensuring Secure and Stable Financing	33
Introducing Sound Business Practices	33

Part III. An Agenda for Reform	35
5. Assigning Management Responsibility	37
Basic Principles	37
Managing the Road Network	38
Managing Road Traffic	49
Key Conclusions and Recommendations	51
6. Creating Ownership	53
The Concept of Ownership	53
Organizations Representing Road Users	54
Ways of Involving Road Users	55
Setting Up a Road Board	57
Key Recommendations and Conclusions	62
7. Ensuring an Adequate and Stable Flow of Funds	65
Setting Clear Market Signals	65
Pricing and Cost Recovery Policies	72
Key Recommendations and Conclusions	77
8. Managing the Revenues	80
Linking Revenues and Expenditures	80
Types of Road Funds	80
Characteristics of Existing Road Funds	83
Problems with Conventional Road Funds	86
Setting Up a Commercially Managed Road Fund	88
Key Recommendations and Conclusions	101
9. Introducing Sound Business Practices	103
Defining the Corporate Mission	103
Separating Planning and Management from Implementation of Road Works	104
Identifying Effective Ways to Contract Out	106
Staffing Requirements	108
Management Structure	111
Management Information Systems	112
Financial Accounting Systems	114
Controlling the Quality of Road Works	118
Managerial Autonomy and Accountability	122
Key Conclusions and Recommendations	123
Part IV. Annexes	127
Annex 1. Length of Road and Estimated Asset Values in Selected Countries	129
Annex 2. The Inverse Elasticity Rule	130
Annex 3. Estimating Road-User Charges: A Worked Example	132
Annex 4. Review of Selected Road Funds	139
Annex 5. Draft Road Fund Administration Bill	145
Annex 6. Standard Format for Setting Up a Road Fund Under Existing Legislation	153
References	157