

INDICE

Preface	5
Executive summary	7
Introduction	19
1. Skills and development
Uncertainties in the demand for skills	23
Barriers to efficient response	24
2. Strengthening primary and secondary education	30
3. Encouraging private sector training
Creating a favorable policy environment	33
Improving traditional apprenticeship	40
Reducing the regulation of private training	41
4. Improving effectiveness and efficiency in public training
Improving market orientation in planning	43
Improving institutional responsiveness to market forces	45
Using training resources efficiently	51
Building capacity for policy implementation	52
Diversifying the sources of finance	54
5. Training as a complement to equity strategies
Improving levels of education	58
Training for rural and urban self-employment	59
Improving access to wage employment for women	61
6. Implications for the world bank	64
Improving economic analysis for training	66
Strengthening primary and secondary education
Strengthening employer and private training	68
Improving the effectiveness and efficiency of public training
Providing long-term support	69
Appendix	71
Selected bibliography	73