

INDICE

Acknowledgments
Introduction	1
Chapter I: reflections: what is participation?
What is participation Participatory stance	3
External expert stance Listening and consultation Expert learning	4
Social learning and invention Commitment	5
Popular vs. stakeholder participation Reaching the poor	6
Chapter II: sharing experiences	8
Guide to sourcebook examples	10
1. Albania: rural poverty alleviation pilot project	13
2. Benin: health project	18
3. Brazil: Municipalities and low income sanitation	24
4. Chad: education V	29
5. Colombia: electricity sector reform	33
6. Egypt: Matruh resource management project	40
7. India: Andhra Pradesh forestry project	45
8. Lao: PDR: health system reform and malaria control	53
9. Mexico: hydroelectric project	59
10. Morocco: women in development sector strategy	67
11. Mozambique: country implementation review	75
12. Nigeria: women in agriculture	81
13. Pakistan: sindh special development project	87
14. Philippines: integrated protected areas project	95
15. Philippines: communal irrigation projects	101
16. Yemen: education sector credit	109
Chapter III: practice pointers: participatory planning's and decisionmaking	113
A. Getting started When to start
Getting government support	114
B. Identifying stakeholders	116
Who is a stakeholder?	117
Identifying stakeholders	118
C. Involving stakeholders Building trust	120
Involving directly affected stakeholders	121
Seeking feedback	122
Involving the voiceless	123
Involving the opposition	125
D. Participatory planning and decisionmaking What do participatory techniques achieve?	126
Creating a learning mood	127

What does the learning mood produce?	128
Strategic planning
Tactical planning	129
E. Task manager roles	130
Initiating Facilitating Participating	131
Sharing expertise Observing	132
Navigating	133
Nurturing	134
Chapter IV: practice pointers: enabling the poor to participate
A. Learning from the poor	135
Learning what poverty means to the poor	136
Providing incentives for the poor to participate	138
B. Facilitating women's participation
Barriers to women's participation	139
Seeking women's views	140
Working with women's groups	141
C. Building community capacity
Understanding community organizations	142
Building the capacity of community organizations	144
D. Intermediary NGOs
NGOs as intermediaries	147
Understanding the NGO sector	148
Identifying appropriate NGOs	150
Bridging the gap	153
Strengthening NGO capacity	154
E. Financial intermediation
Fiscal decentralization	155
Social funds	156
Sustainable financial systems	158
Group-Based approaches	160
Building capacity of groups
F. Crafting responsive institutions	162
Characteristics of responsive institutions
Strengthening the capacity of government institutions	164
G. The enabling environment: legal issues	165
Right to information	166
Right to organize	167
Impact of borrowers financial and other regulations	169
Annex I: Methods and tools
Introduction	173
Guide of methods
Appreciation-influence-control	175
Objectives-Oriented project planning	179
PC/TeamUP	181
Participatory rural appraisal	183
SARAR	185

Beneficiary assessment	187
Systematic client consultation	189
Social assessment	191
Gender analysis	193
Glossary of tools	195
Annex II: Working paper summaries	199
Participation in country economic and sector work	200
Participation in poverty assessments	204
Participation in agricultural extension	208
Participation in forest and conservation management	212
Participation in the irrigation sector	216
Participation in the water and sanitation sector	220
Participation in the education and training sector	224
Participation in social funds	228
Gender issues in participation	232
Participation and intermediary NGOs	236
Designing community based development	240
Participatory and indigenous people	244