

Contents

Foreword	xi
Acknowledgments	xv

I. BACKGROUND AND DEFINITIONS

1. An Introduction	3
2. The Output of Governments.....	16
3. The Institutional Framework	42

II. THE STRUCTURE OF DEMAND

4. The Origins of Political Action	55
5. The Instruments of Political Participation	74
6. The Demand for Government Policies	99

III. THE STRUCTURE OF SUPPLY

7. The Behavior of Political Parties	123
8. Technical Constraints on the Behavior of the Governing Party	140
9. The Behavior of Bureaus	161

IV. RESOURCE ALLOCATION IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR

10. The Equilibrium Quantity of Government Policies	179
11. Comparative Statical Displacements of Equilibrium	194
12. Conclusion	205

V. APPENDIX

Appendix 1. The Case of Non-private Goods	209
Appendix 2. The Long-Run Empirical Behavior of Public Expenditures	214
Index	219